I'm an estranged student / supporting an estranged student. Does the University provide any additional help?

Swansea University offers additional support for estranged students. We have a support package which we hope will help you to settle in, focus on your studies and graduate successfully.

To qualify for the support package, you need to:

- Be aged 25 or under when you start the course
- Provide evidence of your ongoing estrangement i.e. a letter from your previous school or college, healthcare professional or other professional who is able to confirm your estrangement.
- Have been estranged for at least one year with no foreseen chance of reconciliation.

Having worked with estranged students for many years we are aware that compiling evidence of this nature is problematic for some students. Therefore, we look at each student on a case by case basis.

If you meet the eligibility criteria, you can benefit from all of the support arrangements offered by Swansea University at any time. If and when you do come to study at Swansea University you remain entitled to the support until the completion of your course.

Full details of the Support Package can be viewed at <https://www.swansea.ac.uk/money-campuslife/students-with-additional-considerations/being-estranged-from-your-family/>. Please contact Money@CampusLife to discuss the support we can provide.
